

Walking in the woods

One day a girl was walking in the woods and she was walking to her mother's house. She saw a fox so she went running. She was about to go to the edge of a cliff but she did not fall .

The next day she was going to walk to her Mam house again but she saw a group of foxes. This time she walked past them. She kept looking back at the foxes but she fell in to a puddle and it went under the ground. She fell into a fox hole.

She had fallen asleep. It was 7 o'clock and the fox was there. She got so scared. The fox dropped the meat and left. She got so scared. She fainted it came 10 o'clock by the time she woke up.

The fox came back and she just walked away. Finally she got to her Mams house and she was very wet and cold and her Mam was like "What happened to you?" 'It's a long story', she said.

THE END.
